Invitation

We are delighted to invite you to the XXXVIII Symposium of the International Society of Dermatopathology, the leading International meeting in the field of Dermatopathology. By visiting the website www.isdp2017.com you will see the exciting programme that we have in place.

Registration includes all the sessions overleaf.

Preferred papers sessions – please submit abstracts by June 2017 (abstracts to be published in Am J Dermatopath)

Multiple videomicroscopy tutorials included - see overleaf (no extra fee). The ever popular Self Assessment (no extra fee) - digitally scanned slides to view prior to the meeting online.

The state of the art Technology & Innovation Centre of the University of Strathclyde will host the Symposium in a central location within walking distance of hotels and the outstanding venues for the welcome reception and social dinner. We are sure that Glasgow with its wonderful buildings, museums, shops and restaurants will be a wonderful host city, with a chance to explore the beautiful Scottish countryside beyond. The British Association of Dermatologists Conference team is assisting with the organisation. Please direct your interest to conference@bad.org.uk

We hope to welcome you to Glasgow, 28-30 September 2017.

Dr Paul Craig, President, British Society for Dermatopathology on behalf of the Local Organising Committee for XXXVIII Symposium of the ISDP, Glasgow 2017: Dr Asok Biswas, Dr Richard Carr, Dr Paul Craig, Dr Sara Edward, Dr Catherine Stefanato
